

Schedule, first section, twenty-second session, Army Medical School, commencing November 12, 1917

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
9 to 11 Bacteriology, pathology, laboratory diagnosis	9 to 11 Drill at Soldiers' Home	9 to 11 Bacteriology, pathology, laboratory diagnosis	9 to 11 Bacteriology, pathology, laboratory diagnosis	9 to 11 Bacteriology, pathology, laboratory diagnosis	9 to 11 Sanitary chemistry
11 to 12 French, section A; French study, section B	11.30 to 12.30 French, section B; French study, section A	11 to 12 French, section A; French study, section B	11 to 12 French, section B; French study, section A	11 to 12 French, section A; French study, section B	11 to 12 French, section B; French study, section A
12 to 12.30 Physical exercises, room 606		12 to 12.30 Physical exercises, room 606	12 to 12.30 Physical exercises, room 606	12 to 12.30 Physical exercises, room 606	12 to 12.30 Physical exercises, room 606
1 to 2 Medical Department administration	1 to 2 Military surgery	1 to 2 Military medicine and tropical medicine		1 to 2 Military surgery	1.30 Equitation at Fort Myer, by platoons
2 to 5 Ophthalmology, lectures and practical work	2 to 3 Military hygiene	2 to 3 Roentgenology (Lecture)	2 to 4 Drill at Soldiers' Home	2 to 3 Military hygiene
	3 to 5 Military medicine and tropical medicine	3 to 4 Medical Department administration		3 to 4 Chemistry (lecture)
				4 to 5 Medical Department administration and military law

Practical work in small sections, to be announced, will be given in Roentgenology from 11 to 12 daily. Recitations in sanitary tactics will be held from time to time as announced. The division into platoons for equitation will be announced later. Officers taking the course in military orthopedics will take military drill and all the afternoon courses with the exception of ophthalmology. They will take the practical work in Roentgenology in sections Mondays from 2 to 5, according to later announcement.