

FIG. 122.—Rabbit. Six days after application of mustard gas. Treatment after five minutes with 2 per cent solution of silver nitrate and 5 per cent lead acetate. Primary edema was nearly completely controlled, but necrosis, six days later, is marked, extending deep into the corium, with more rapid separation of the slough