

FIG. 153.—Two weeks after direct application of standard droplet of dichlorethylsulphide to the cornea. Marked reduction of edema. Much less purulent exudate. Indurated lids exhibit the characteristic "ruffling" and partial entropion of the upper lid in the later stage and the smooth ectropion of the lower lid. The lower half of the cornea shows a marked clouding