

FIG. 166.—Palpebral conjunctiva 26 hours after application of standard droplet of dichlorethylsulphide, showing advancing necrosis, more marked infiltration, congestion, minute hemorrhages and edema