

FIG. 176.—Section of corneal vertex four weeks after application of standard droplet of dichlorethylsulfide, showing the marked irregularities in the corneal surface; regeneration of corneal epithelium and endothelium of anterior chamber; edema of the interstitial substance with some fibroblastic repair