

FIG. 179.—Section from the inferior portion of the cornea seven weeks after application of the standard droplet of dichlorethylsulphide. Persistent ulcer; marked polynuclear infiltration of the cornea, and repair. Blood vessels have reached the center of the cornea