

FIG. 195.—Section of laryngeal mucosa of rabbit. Exposed 35 minutes to a concentration of 1:30,000. Killed 30 hours after gassing. Pycnosis and mucoïd degeneration of the epithelium. Marked congestion and edema of the submucosa