

FIG. 79.—Organizing bronchiolitis in a dog killed two months after exposure to cyanogen bromide. The character of the cells taking part in the organization is well shown. The bronchiole has been partially re-lined by an epithelium of irregular form but mostly of the flattened type