

FIG. 6.—United States 14-inch railway artillery. This type was evolved entirely by the United States Ordnance Department. It is an excellent weapon for coast defense and hurls a 1,200-pound projectile more than 18 miles.