

FIG. 202.—Form of trap to be attached to a catheter drain. It provides both a receptacle for the discharge and a flap valve. If slight suction is needed, it can be provided by collapsing the trap