

FIG. 106.—Infraclavicular exposure of brachial plexus; pectoralis major divided and reflected; neurovascular bundle exposed and sheath held open by forceps; biceps retracted laterally to facilitate exposure. A, Deltoid; B, pectoralis major tendon, divided; C, coracobrachialis; D, biceps; E, median, outer head; F, median, inner head; G, median nerve; H, ulnar nerve; I, internal cutaneous nerve; J, pectoralis major, reflected; K, neurovascular bundle; L, axillary artery