

FIG. 212.—Microphotograph of a pyridine-silver preparation from a longitudinal section of the distal end of the central stump of the sciatic of a dog, 11 days after the operation of cable-auto-nerve transplant, showing division of down-growing central neurones